

Name _____

Date _____

Commas

A comma is a punctuation mark used to indicate a pause or a change in thought. It serves multiple purposes:

Function 1: To separate items in a series.

Function 2: To set off names or introductory elements.

Function 3: To set off appositives.

Write each sentence correctly, adding commas where they are needed.

1. Elk are the prey of mountain lions bears wolves and coyotes.

2. Do you think Jared that you'll find more fossils?

3. Yes Dr. Winston will tell the story of his first fossil find.

4. Well the scientist thought he was extremely lucky to find the fossil.

5. When the news got out the museum hoped he would donate the fossil.

Name _____

Date _____

Commas – Answer Key

A comma is a punctuation mark used to indicate a pause or a change in thought. It serves multiple purposes:

Function 1: To separate items in a series.

Function 2: To set off names or introductory elements.

Function 3: To set off appositives.

Write each sentence correctly, adding commas where they are needed.

1. Elk are the prey of mountain lions bears wolves and coyotes.

Elk are the prey of mountain lions, bears, wolves, and coyotes.

2. Do you think Jared that you'll find more fossils?

Do you think, Jared, that you'll find more fossils?

3. Yes Dr. Winston will tell the story of his first fossil find.

Yes, Dr. Winston will tell the story of his first fossil find.

4. Well the scientist thought he was extremely lucky to find the fossil.

Well, the scientist thought he was extremely lucky to find the fossil.

5. When the news got out the museum hoped he would donate the fossil.

When the news got out, the museum hoped he would donate the fossil.