Sentence, Fragment, or Run-on

A complete sentence expresses a complete thought. In writing, it's important to avoid fragments and run-on sentences. A fragment is a group of words that does not form a complete sentence. A run-on sentence should be complete sentences, but lacks proper punctuation.

Examples:

Sentence: Leah and I went to the park.

Fragment: Went to the library.

Run-on: I went to the park with Leah we had a terrific time.
