

Name

Date

Ask Focused Questions to Analyze Text

Asking questions while reading is a strategy that helps readers understand the text better. Readers can ask questions before reading to make predictions, during reading to focus on important details, and after reading to think about the big idea or theme of the text.

Read the text below. Ask and answer questions before, during, and after reading to deepen your understanding.

The Little Garden

Lila loved flowers, but her yard was small and had no garden. She decided to plant a few seeds in pots. Every day, she watered them and made sure they were in the sunlight. After weeks of care, the tiny seeds grew into colorful flowers. Lila’s yard was now full of beauty, and she was proud of her hard work.

|                             | Questions | My Answer |
|-----------------------------|-----------|-----------|
| Before Reading              |           |           |
| ↓ During Reading |           |           |
| ↓ After Reading  |           |           |

Name _____

Date _____

Ask Focused Questions to Analyze Text – Answer Key

Asking questions while reading is a strategy that helps readers understand the text better. Readers can ask questions before reading to make predictions, during reading to focus on important details, and after reading to think about the big idea or theme of the text.

Read the text below. Ask and answer questions before, during, and after reading to deepen your understanding.

The Little Garden

Lila loved flowers, but her yard was small and had no garden. She decided to plant a few seeds in pots. Every day, she watered them and made sure they were in the sunlight. After weeks of care, the tiny seeds grew into colorful flowers. Lila's yard was now full of beauty, and she was proud of her hard work.

|                                                                                                              | Questions                                                | My Answer                                                                                   |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Before Reading | Based on the title, What will the story be about? | Someone who plants a garden, even though the space is small.                         |
| During Reading | What steps did Lila take to grow her flowers?     | Lila planted seeds in pots, watered them every day, and made sure they got sunlight. |
| After Reading                                                                                         | What is the theme or lesson of the story?         | hard work and care can turn something small into something beautiful.                |