

Name _____

Date _____

Construct Sentences Using Various Types

A declarative sentence makes a statement and ends with a period. An interrogative sentence asks a question and ends with a question mark. An imperative sentence gives a command and ends with a period. An exclamatory sentence shows strong feeling and ends with an exclamation point. Combine various type of sentences while writing makes your text more attractive for readers.

Rewrite the paragraph using various types of sentences. The answer varies.

Before	Rewrite
My dog ran around in the yard. He was chasing a squirrel. It was so funny. You should have seen it.
The school science fair is tomorrow. Our class built a volcano. It's really cool. You should come and see it.
I visited a museum with my family. We saw dinosaur fossils. They were amazing. You should visit the museum someday.

Name _____

Date _____

Construct Sentences Using Various Types – Answer Key

A declarative sentence makes a statement and ends with a period. An interrogative sentence asks a question and ends with a question mark. An imperative sentence gives a command and ends with a period. An exclamatory sentence shows strong feeling and ends with an exclamation point. Combine various type of sentences while writing makes your text more attractive for readers.

Rewrite the paragraph using various types of sentences. The answer varies.

Before	Rewrite
My dog ran around in the yard. He was chasing a squirrel. It was so funny. You should have seen it.	My dog ran around in the yard, chasing a squirrel. It was hilarious! Have you ever seen a dog do that? Watch closely next time—you'll laugh so hard!
The school science fair is tomorrow. Our class built a volcano. It's really cool. You should come and see it.	The school science fair is tomorrow. Our class built a volcano that looks incredible! Do you want to come and see it? Don't miss out—it's going to be so exciting!
I visited a museum with my family. We saw dinosaur fossils. They were amazing. You should visit the museum someday.	I visited a museum with my family and saw dinosaur fossils. Wow! They were so fascinating! Have you ever seen a dinosaur fossil before? You should definitely visit the museum someday.