

Name _____

Date _____

Use Basic Appositives

An appositive is a word or phrase that explains or provides extra details about a noun. While appositives are often nouns or noun phrases, this isn't always the case. Typically, an appositive is placed directly next to the noun it describes, either before or after it.

Identify and underline the appositive in each sentence. Then, rewrite the sentence without the appositive.

1. Paris, the capital of France, is famous for its art and cuisine.

2. The class president, Emily Johnson, planned the school's charity event.

3. Mount Everest, the tallest mountain in the world, attracts climbers from all over.

4. New York City, a bustling metropolis, is known for its iconic landmarks.

Name _____

Date _____

Use Basic Appositives – Answer Key

An appositive is a word or phrase that explains or provides extra details about a noun. While appositives are often nouns or noun phrases, this isn't always the case. Typically, an appositive is placed directly next to the noun it describes, either before or after it.

Identify and underline the appositive in each sentence. Then, rewrite the sentence without the appositive.

1. Paris, the capital of France, is famous for its art and cuisine.

Paris is famous for its art and cuisine.

2. The class president, Emily Johnson, planned the school's charity event.

The class president planned the school's charity event.

3. Mount Everest, the tallest mountain in the world, attracts climbers from all over.

Mount Everest attracts climbers from all over.

4. New York City, a bustling metropolis, is known for its iconic landmarks.

New York City is known for its iconic landmarks.