

Name _____

Date _____

Use Appositive Clauses

An appositive is a word or phrase that identifies or gives more information about a noun.

- Usually it is right next to the noun.
- It makes writing smoother by combining short sentences into one.
- Using appositive phrases adds details and interest without making writing choppy.

Example:

Choppy: My brother is in high school. His name is Ben.

Better: My brother, Ben, is in high school.

Combine the sentences below into one sentence that uses as least one appositive.

1. The car was made in 2009. It is a Toyota. It is red. It belongs to Joe.

2. The book was short. It had only 65 pages. Peter finished it quickly.

3. The girl is little. She is cute. She is also very smart. Her name is Mary.

4. Vincent was a famous artist. He painted The Starry Night. He painted it in 1889.

Name _____

Date _____

Use Appositive Clauses – Answer Key

An appositive is a word or phrase that identifies or gives more information about a noun.

- Usually it is right next to the noun.
- It makes writing smoother by combining short sentences into one.
- Using appositive phrases adds details and interest without making writing choppy.

Example:

Choppy: My brother is in high school. His name is Ben.

Better: My brother, Ben, is in high school.

Combine the sentences below into one sentence that uses as least one appositive.

1. The car was made in 2009. It is a Toyota. It is red. It belongs to Joe.

The car, a red 2009 Toyota, belongs to Joe.

2. The book was short. It had only 65 pages. Peter finished it quickly.

The book, only 65 pages long, was finished quickly by Peter.

3. The girl is little. She is cute. She is also very smart. Her name is Mary.

Mary, a little and cute girl, is also very smart.

4. Vincent was a famous artist. He painted The Starry Night. He painted it in 1889.

Vincent, a famous artist, painted The Starry Night in 1889.